From trainee hardships to management tactics, these accounts shed light on the authentic, sometimes harsh realities that shape the lives of idols and the industry as a whole.

The Rigorous Trainee System: A Hidden Pathway to Stardom

The Intense Training Regimen

Many aspiring idols begin their journey at a young age, sometimes as early as 10 or 12 years old. Trainees undergo an arduous process that can last for several years, during which they are subjected to rigorous training in singing, dancing, language skills, and public speaking. What is less known is the extreme pressure trainees face to meet unreachable standards of perfection.

- Long Hours and Strict Schedules: Trainees often spend 10-12 hours daily practicing, with little regard for personal time or rest.

- Psychological Strain: The constant pressure to succeed, coupled with strict discipline and sometimes harsh criticism, can lead to anxiety, depression, and burnout.

In many cases, trainees or their families bear significant financial burdens, paying for training, housing, and language lessons, often with little guarantee of success. Some stories tell of trainees signing exclusive contracts that tie them to agencies for years, with little control over their careers or personal lives.

The Dark Side of Management and Contract Practices

Exploitation and Contract Disputes

Case Examples:

Key Point: Media control is a crucial aspect of maintaining the industry's polished image, often at the expense of honesty and transparency.
